Dear Mr. Drazenovich,

Thank you for your recent letter. Your message of support for the Declaration of Principles and the Agreement of Mutual Recognition, signed between Israel and the Palestinians is truly appreciated.

Israel has taken considerable risks upon itself in order to create an opportunity for peace and to put an end to violence and war. It is our wish to open a new chapter in the history of the Middle East - a chapter of mutual recognition, good neighborliness, mutual respect and understanding. We hope we have begun a new era in relations between peoples everywhere.

From Jerusalem, the eternal capital of Israel and the Jewish people, in the language of the Bible, we say, "Peace, peace to him who is afar and to him who is near".

Sincerely yours,

This is from Shakespeare. I am ill-equipped to speak to such a magnificently historic occasion:

A peace is of the nature of a conquest; for then both parties nobly are subdued, and neither party loses.

I should have very much enjoyed conveying this to Chairman Arafat, but not knowing his address, would you do me the honour, sir?

God be with the Israelis and Palestinians as they begin their journey!

Very respectfully yours,
George Drazenovich

Dear Mr. Rabin:

I wish to thank you ever so much for all your efforts in coming to an accord with PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat.

I recall that when you came into office you had hopes for peace some day and though there is much to do as yet, it started with you. We, in United States, are aware of this

I am enclosing a picture that appeared in our local paper last month. I decided not to make a photo copy of it so you could really see this event was very important to us.

I am an 85 year old widow who has lived in Corvallis for more than 50 years. My husband established an office equipment here in 1943 - and it is still doing very well. The business is operated as ethically as my husband did - and it pays off.

Again - my sincere thanks to you.

MAZAL is referred to in the Bible as a planet, a constellation of the Zodiac. Called a "lucky star," it was invoked when fate was involved. But, Talmudic sages and great Jewish scholars warned against this kind of soothsaying.

Through the ages the supernatural aspects of the word were forgotten and Mazal came to mean "luck."

Dear Mr. Rabin,

We were privileged to have met you in the corridors of the Accadia Hotel in August of this year as we had the room opposite yours.

When you gave me your autograph I wished you good luck - you smiled and said thank you. Only you of course knew about the Agreement being reached.

I am immensely proud of you and of Israel. I am not sure of my other feelings yet but like you - I hope and pray for a full peace.

May God bless you and assist you in your endeavours.

Dear Prime Minister

I'm very grateful for the friendly words of Mr. Eitan Haber, written on the 25th of August.

Moved and with great pleasure I saw and heard, with millions of people around the world, on television, the speeches and signatures of the treaty with the Palastinian-People in Washington.

In your speech, which went straight to my heart, you sent the following words to the Palastinians: "We are destined to live together on the same ground in the same country... Enough blood and tears, enough!" Here I thought hearing the voice of God -

The presence of the children was wonderful, it was their contribution to peace between the people.

I congratulate you to your courageous step. I thank you and your Ministers very much for the hard and pain ful work.

In my prayer I also thank Jesus for his leadership. He will make everything good.

For you, Prime Minister, as well as to all other members involved, I wish a lot of strenght, good health and God's bliss for the future tasks.

With friendly greetings

Rosmarie Zwygart

Händedruck zwischen Rabin und Arafat

PLO-Führer Yassir Arafat (rechts im Bild) streckt seine Hand aus, und Israels Ministerpräsident Yitzhak Rabin ergreift sie. Unter der Schirmherrschaft von US-Präsident Clinton (Mitte) kam es gestern zu diesem erstmaligen, historischen Händedruck der bisherigen Feinde.

Begleitet von Protesten auf jüdischer und arabischer Seite haben Israel und die Palästinensische Befreiungsorganisation (PLO) vor dem Weißen Haus in Washington das Ende ihrer jahrzehntelangen Feindschaft besiegelt. Der israelische Außenminister Shimon Peres und der PLO-Präsident Mahmud Abbas setzten vor 3000 geladenen Gästen ihre Unterschriften unter das Dokument, das zunächst eine palästinensische Selbstverwaltung für den Gazastreifen und Jericho im Westjordanland vorsieht.

Nach dem historischen Vertragsabschluss zwischen Israel und der PLO werden heute Dienstag in Washington auch Israel und Jordanien eine Vereinbarung paraphieren, die den Rahmen für einen Friedensvertrag bilden soll.

Reisen – ein Kinderspiel

Entspanntes Reisen beginnt in der Bahn. Mit Kindern, die sich von der Fahrt durch unbekannte Landschaften begeistern lassen. Und mit Eltern, die das Beisammensein unterwegs ungezwungen genießen können – im neuen Familienwagen der «Schweizer Familie».

Für unbeschwerter Familienausflüge sorgt der neu gestaltete Familienwagen. Rutschbahn, Schaukelsitz, Märchentelefone, Duplo-Steine und Bücher für Leseratten bieten Kindern im geräumigen Spielabteil viel Abwechslung und sorgen für mächtig Spass.

Während die Kleinen nach Herzlust spielen, reisen die Eltern in den Abteilen vor und hinter dem Kinderparadies ungestört. Sie können die Kleinen stets im Auge behalten. Und falls ihnen vor lauter Kinderlosigkeit langweilig wird: Auch hier laden Spieltische zur fröhlichen Unterhaltung ein. Und es liegen erst noch die neueste «Schweizer Familie» und für grössere Kinder der «Spick» auf.

Selbstverständlich wurde auch an die Allerkleinsten gedacht: Platz für das Abstellen von Kinderwagen gibt es genug, und in einer Kabine befindet sich ein Wickeltisch.

Die Fahrt im Familienwagen ist eine Gratsdienstleistung, die von der Zeitschrift «Schweizer Familie» zusammen mit den SBB angeboten wird. Die kurzweilige Fahrt kostet keinen Franken mehr als das Bahnbillett. Und mit der Familienkarte reisen Kinder bis 16 Jahre sowieso gratis mit.

A New Look

Erkennbar ist der Familienwagen im 2.-Klass-Teil des Zuges schon von weiterem an zwei poppigen Kindergesichtern mit verspiegelten Sonnenbrillen. Die Wagen im neuen Look verkehren in verschiedenen Intercity-Zügen auf den Linien

- ◆ Genf-Bern-Zürich-St. Gallen
- ◆ Basel-Bern-Brig
- ◆ Basel-Zürich-Chur
- ◆ Zürich-Lugano-Chiasso.

EUROPA Antwerpen

Antwerpen – das ist 1993 die Kulturhauptstadt Europas. Antwerpen – das ist aber auch die Diamanten-, Kunst- und Hafenstadt.

Nach Athen, Florenz, Amsterdam, Berlin, Glasgow, Dublin und Madrid ist Antwerpen 1993 die erste Kunst- und Kulturhauptstadt in einem Europa ohne Grenzen. Das gastfreundliche Antwerpen ist und bleibt aber auch die Stadt Rubens. Es ist zudem eines der Weltzentren der Diamantenschleiferei und Belgiens bedeutendster Handelshafen.

Die SBB und «Frantour» offerieren Ihnen individuelle Reisen nach Antwerpen – mit dem Halbtax-Abo bereits ab Fr. 290.–. Inbegriffen sind die Bahnfahrt 2. Klasse mit dem Halbtax-Abo sowie eine Übernachtung im Doppelzimmer.

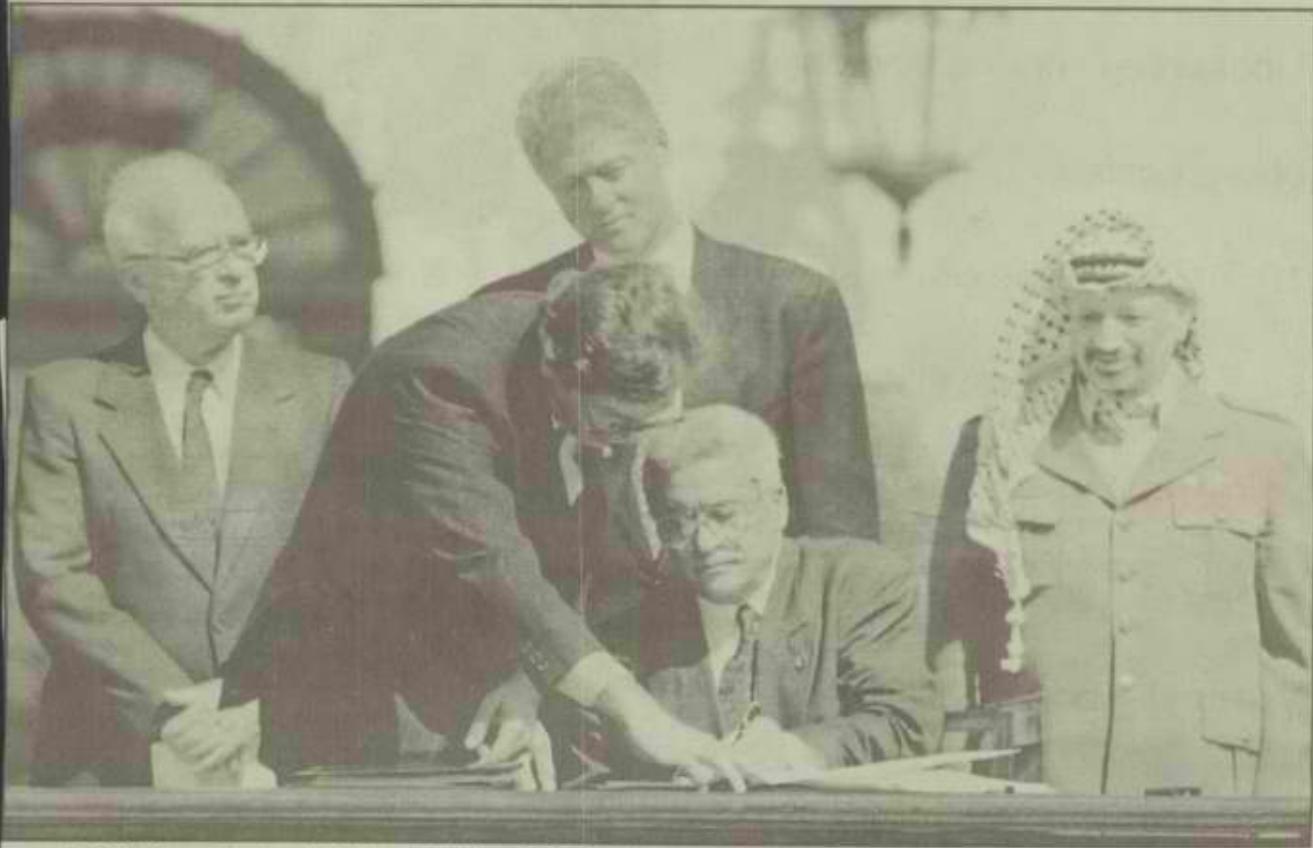

«Frantour» bietet Ihnen auch Reisen in andere europäische Städte an: Nach dem faszinierenden Hamburg ab Fr. 244.–, ins goldene Prag ab Fr. 354.–, nach Monte Carlo an der Côte d'Azur ab Fr. 269.–, oder nach Paris in die Weltstadt an der Seine ab Fr. 199.–. Diese Fahrt können Sie auch mit einem Aufenthalt im Euro-Disneyland kombinieren.

Dear Prime minister Rabin,

It was a great week when you took your imagination and courage to make peace.

You were the only one. You were the soldier - the man of the place - the man who knew the arab as both enemy and friend. The man who shared your land with that enemy.

Even if the future is hard you took Israel to a proud place. It's dangerous. you will win.

What a thrill it was for my ~~husband~~ & me to watch the American Television program on September 13th. We heard your speech and saw you sign the Declaration of Principles. Then later in the evening we watched and listened as you were interviewed by Ted Koppel. How deeply moved we were by your words and actions, and especially by your attitude and your sensitivity to the whole occasion.

We honor your courage as you set a new course toward reconciliation. We join you in praying for an end to hostilities, and pledge ourselves to work toward this new vision for peace. Now is the time for all of us to search our hearts, for deeper implications and personal responsibilities.

The generations to come owe you a debt of gratitude. We thank you. We bless you. We are mindful of all the hard work that lies ahead. We encourage, affirm, and support you.

Re: Mazel Tov! on Peace in Israel

Dear Mr. Prime Minister:

I congratulate you on reaching a peace treaty with the Palestinian Liberation Movement. The 50th Anniversary for the State of Israel is 1998: Jubilee (Leviticus 25:8).

I truly expect the PLO women to welcome birth control and inexpensive travel to Europe.

It is time for the old heads of Israel to do a little match-making. There are many wealthy American-Russian Jews, like Kirk Douglas, in the movie business. How much gold would he pay to see his grandson Bar Mitzvahed in Jerusalem?

Politically, it would be a gold standard for the economy. Religiously, gold for the new temple.

In the Torah Abraham had two sons - Isaac and Ishmael.

In the genealogy of David, there is the Palestinian Ruth, the Moabitess, wife of Boaz.

On this eve of Rosh Hashanah it is important to remind the rabbis and Sabra of the important question. Is it good for Israel? Is it good for the Children.

Shalom,

M. Okagawa

Jewish new year excites kids

By Gary Massaro

Rocky Mountain News Staff Writer

GLENDALE — Members of Nessie Rappoport's class at the Jewish Community Center Preschool know this is a special day.

"It's Rosh Hashanah," says Jacob, 4.

Rappoport gently corrects Jacob and informs him the name of the holiday is Rosh Hashana, which begins at sundown today and is heralded by blowing on a shofar.

Jason says the shofar "is made from a lamb's horn," which is close enough at his age, which is 5.

Actually, the shofar is usually a ram's horn, Rappoport tells the class. They nod in agreement.

Rappoport's half-dozen students in the Early Childhood Education Center are role-playing to learn more about Rosh Hashana.

kid synagogue with cardboard box altar and ark and paper Torahs and prayer books.

"He's the rabbi," Jason says. "I'm the counter."

Rappoport again gently corrects the pronunciation to "cantor."

And she reminds the class that Rosh Hashana is a special day.

Leah, 4, knows, saying, "It's a holiday. It's the world's birthday."

On the Jewish calendar, today marks the beginning of the year 5754. Rappoport's class counts a little differently.

"The world's age is maybe 64-high," Jacob says.

Counters Jason the cantor, "I think the world is turning 7."

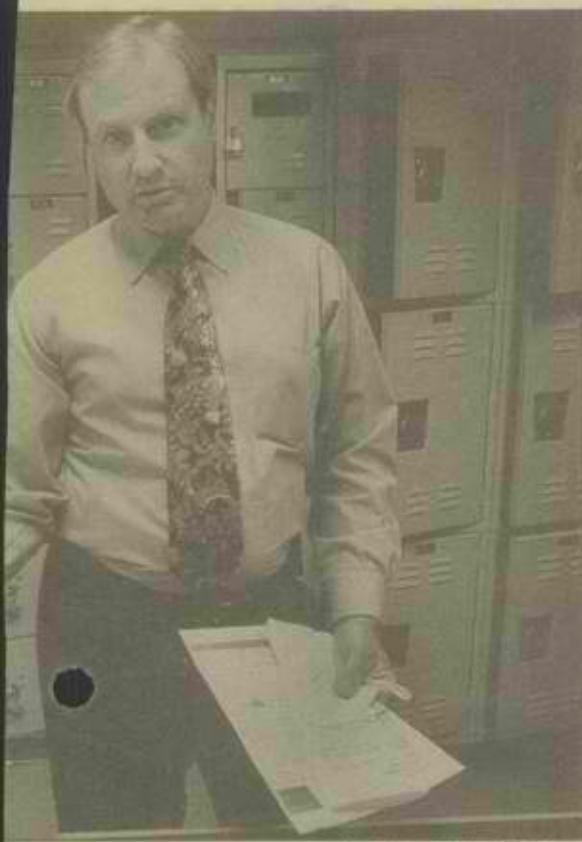

Javid, 4, is a little closer, saying the Earth is 50,000.

Rosh Hashana is a time for looking inward, checking on what you did right and wrong and could have done better and promising to improve. So each child has compiled a book of promises to try to keep during the new year.

Javid says, "I promise to cook with my mom."

He knows a little of cooking. The children snacked on apples and honey "for a sweet new year," Javid says.

And Leah vows to be a little kinder to her sister. Or, as she says, "I promise to never kick my sister."

charged with a concealed weapon already on the books. The boy, 14, was found with a .25-caliber pistol in his pocket. He was arrested and charged with a felony.

He became the second juvenile to be arrested under a new gun ban signed by Gov. Roy Romer.

Violent offenders in the juvenile justice system are prohibited from having guns. The ban applies to juveniles under 18 who have been convicted of a violent offense or are on probation or parole.

The family's south Colorado Springs home climaxed with the youth pulling the small pistol, cocking it and waving it around the kitchen and at his older sister, then pointing it at his own head before storming out of the house.

The boy's mother said she wasn't aware her son even owned a pistol, although, she said, "he had talked about it."

She was sleeping when the argument occurred between the youth and his 20-year-old sister.

The boy had come to the house with two girls and asked if they could use the telephone.

"I never saw them before, so I told him they couldn't come in and they should use the phone down at the 7-Eleven," his sister said.

The youth became angry and pulled out the gun, waving it around, said his sister. When she told him to put the gun down, he replied, "You want to see how crazy I am?" and put the gun to his own head before walking out of the house.

The boy's sister called police, who picked up the youth a few blocks from his home.

New Mortal Kombat game oozes brutality, draws youngsters like flies, infuriates Focus on Family

Vicarious violence pulls kids to video

By Ann Carnahan

Rocky Mountain News Staff Writer

Denver stores are under siege from kids buying a new home video game so bloody it comes in two versions — with or without gore.

The debut of Mortal Kombat this week has already generated controversy and enraged members of Focus on the Family in Colorado Springs.

Mortal Kombat is a fantasy martial arts game in which two opponents fight a three-round bout. When you've defeated your opponent, you can "finish him" by ripping his beating heart from his chest or tearing his head off, pulling out his spine along with it.

"The concern about Mortal Kombat is the way in which a child can vicariously participate in the murder and brutal assault on another human being," said Bob DeMoss, youth culture specialist for Focus on the Family. "I think we're seeing a real desensitization to violent actions in our society."

That hasn't stopped children from snapping up the video.

At Buy-Back Games in Englewood, they stood outside all day Monday waiting for the shipment to arrive.

"Some of those kids had to miss school," said assistant manager Lisa Klinger.

Klinger had already sold 100 Mortal Kombats, making it the store's biggest seller.

It's the second-biggest seller at Video Pursuit in southeast Denver, right behind Street Fighter II, which came out last year.

And at BJ's Movies in Littleton, manager Pat Doleval fielded at least a dozen calls from kids before the video arrived.

Backed by a $10 million advertising campaign, Mortal Kombat is expected to sell 2 million copies in the next few months, said Allyne Mills of Acclaim Entertainment Inc., the New York company that produces the game. The target market is 8- to 13-year-old boys, she said.

Graphically, Mortal Kombat is more realistic than other games because video footage of martial artists and actors was digitized to create the characters.

Mortal Kombat comes in two main versions. The Sega Genesis version is complete with all the moves available in the original arcade game.

The Super Nintendo version cuts much of the

"If you don't like that kind of stuff, you should not put on the 'blood mode.'"

graphic violence.

Acclaim dismissed concern that its violent content might harm children.

"We have heard and read many studies that say that martial arts games are good for kids. These games allow them to get out their aggressions. Children know the difference between what is real and what is fantasy," Mills said.

Justin Jones, 12, of Boulder, defended the violence in the Sega version, noting that you have to use a code to gain access to it.

"If you don't like that kind of stuff, you should not put on the 'blood mode,'" he said.

Justin has played more than 200 video games, and Mortal Kombat is his favorite. "It's the hottest arcade game there is," he said.

Dear Mr. Rabin,

My heartiest congratulations upon your successful achievement of an accord with the Palestinians. I hope that you can be as successful in your dealings with Lebanon, Syria and Jordan.

It is reported that Israeli settlers in the occupied territories are perturbed by the prospect of living in a Palestinian regime.

If you can persuade the Palestinians to adhere to the general Principles, contained in the enclosed paper 'The Good Master', then the Israeli settlers can be assured of decent, honest and humanitarian government.

Yours sincerely,

E.T. Vorster.
E.T. Vorster.

THE GOOD MASTER (CAPTAIN).

OR

THE PEOPLES' CHARTER

The following Principles were originally expressed for the guidance of ships' captains. In giving them expression, however, it occurred to me that they applied equally to the captains of ships ashore, whether great or small, to Captains of Industry and Captains of Ships of State.

History teaches us that when some or all of a ship's people are in a state of mutiny (strike) the fault, almost invariably, lies with the captain and/or the shipowners. This being the case it follows that the captain and/or the shipowner should be disciplined equally.

The word 'people' is used in it's medieval sense as being the crew of a ship.

THE PRINCIPLES.

If you will grant the people the respect that is their due as fellow human beings regardless of rank, race, colour, Creed or sex;

If you will take them into your confidence and trust them;

If you will deal with them with humour, consideration and, when necessary, with compassion;

If you will, when you make a mistake, and who does not, apologise for it and try to rectify it;

If you will teach them when they know not how to perform the task you are setting them;

If you will not exploit them;

If you will not cheat them;

If when you have to discipline one or more of them you try, as far as possible, to make the punishment fit the crime and treat them with understanding afterwards. N.B. This is NOT an advocacy for corporal and capital punishment but for the withdrawal of appropriate privileges;

If you will keep your infrastructure in good repair and appearance;

If you will keep your environment clean and sweet;

then it is the experience of all captains, if they hold to these Principles, that their people will work cheerfully and hard and their ship, even a Ship of State, will work efficiently and have a pleasing appearance for the enjoyment of all.

Similar Principles have been in existence for several millenia. I have merely collated them. They have been conveniently overlooked by many captains for their own gross enrichment. Had they not been so, the Tolpuddle martyrs (farm workers in England who tried to form a Trade Union and were transported to Australia for twenty years) may have been spared their agonies and Trades Unions, which were born of dire necessity, may never have been formed.

Deuteronomy: "You shall NOT oppress your servant who is poor and needy."

Confucius: "If you desire what is good, the people will at once be good. If a ruler himself is upright all will go well even though he does not give orders. But if he himself is not upright, even though he gives orders, they will not be obeyed. Sullenness, resentment & an un-cooperative attitude of the people together with the excessive growth of lawlessness are the direct result of the greed and amorality of the rulers." Democracy and democratic majorities are not a magical 'open Sesame' to Nirvana. They do not guarantee that the minorities will be ruled in rectitude and justice. I suggest that the above Principles, if written in the 'imperative' rather than the 'suggestive' provide an expectation, by the people, of decent, honest, humanitarian Government and, further, provides them with a redress through the Courts if it is not forthcoming. They would certainly have the right to demand disobedience of the rulers by the military and/or the police if they were ordered, by the rulers, to oppress a PEACEFUL people, e.g. Tiananmen Square..

It is adherence to these Principles that has enabled my fellow Captains, and myself, happily to maintain Law and Order aboard ships carrying multi-racial and multi-Faith crews without recourse to the gun, the truncheon or the fist. If the Principles work, as they do, in such a microcosm there is no reason why they will not be, equally, as effective in the larger sphere.

CO-OPERATION IS BETTER THAN CONFRONTATION.

Dear Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin,

On behalf of my children, future grandchildren and all the world's children I write to express my deepest gratitude to you for accepting responsibility and having the courage to forge the foundation for an eventual peace between the Palestinians and the state of Israel.

I realize that you had to make a total shift in thinking in order to be able to sit down at the table with your former enemy and that to lead the Jewish People out on this required incredible courage. I also realize that the "Declaration of Principles on Palestinian self-government" required you to compromise and to be willing to place trust in people who have been the sworn enemies of the Jews. You placed tremendous faith in God and in the support outpouring from the rest of the world. I feel that this faith will be justified and that in time the needs of all involved will be met as further compromises are worked out.

The steps you and Chairman Arafat took, in my opinion, are as big as those taken by the first person to step out on the Moon. They set a path that the whole of humanity will follow in time.

From the bottom of my heart I thank you and pray to our God for your continued good health and the fulfillment of your People's hopes and dreams.

Israel und die PLO besiegen Anerkennung

Unterzeichnung des Gaza-Jericho-Abkommens am Montag – Weltweit hoffnungsvolle Reaktionen

Jerusalem/Tunis/Washington. (dpa/AP) In einem weltweit als historisch gewürdigten Schritt sind Israel und die Palästinensische Befreiungsorganisation (PLO) am Freitag aufeinander zugegangen: Sie beendeten ihre jahrzehntelange blutige Feindschaft durch die gegenseitige Anerkennung ihrer Existenzberechtigung. Die Unterzeichnung des dadurch möglich gewordenen Abkommens über eine Autonomie der Palästinenser im besetzten Gaza-Streifen und in Jericho soll am Montag in großem Rahmen mit über tausend Gästen in Washington stattfinden.

PLO-Chef Yasser Arafat.

Israels Regierungschef Izhak Rabin.

In der Nacht hatte zunächst Yasser Arafat in Tunis einen Brief an Izhak Rabin unterzeichnet. Darin gesteht er Israel das Recht auf eine Existenz in Sicherheit und Frieden zu und verpflichtet sich zu einer gewaltfreien Lösung noch ausstehender Probleme. Er versicherte, diejenigen Passagen der PLO-Verfassung von 1964 seien hinfällig, in denen eine Zerschlagung des jüdischen Staates gefordert wird. Der PLO-Zentralrat soll am 20. September in Tunis die Anerkennung Israels bestätigen, die das Exekutivkomitee zuvor gebilligt hatte. Arafats Brief wurde am Morgen vom norwegischen Außenminister Johan Jørgen Holst nach Jerusalem gebracht. In einer schlichten und ernsten Zeremonie in seinem Amtssitz unterzeichnete Rabin in Holsts Anwesenheit seinerseits ein Schreiben an Arafat. Er teilte dem PLO-Führer mit, daß die israelische Regierung beschlossen habe, die PLO als „die Vertretung des palästinensischen Volkes anzuerkennen und im Rahmen des Nahost-Friedensprozesses Verhandlungen mit ihr aufzunehmen.“

US-Präsident Bill Clinton kündigte an, daß die USA jetzt den 1990 abgebrochenen Dialog mit der PLO wieder aufnehmen werden, nannte jedoch keinen Termin. Einer schnellen Anerkennung der PLO durch Washington stehen einige parlamentarische Hürden und die Bedingungen im Wege, die sich die USA nach dem Abbruch des Dialogs mit der PLO im Juni 1990 auferlegt hatten.

In den internationalen Reaktionen auf die gegenseitige Anerkennung Israels und der Palästinensischen Befreiungsorganisation PLO wird das Ereignis fast durchgängig als mutiger Schritt mit historischer Dimension gewürdigt. Verbunden damit wird die Hoffnung auf eine nunmehr in greifbare Nähe gerückte umfassende Friedenslösung im Nahen Osten, die der gesamten Region neue Entwicklungsperspektiven eröffne. Die Bundesregierung nannte die Anerkennung einen „bedeutsamen und mutigen Schritt“. Die Europäische Gemeinschaft hat indes am Freitag in Brüssel ein langfristiges Hilfsprogramm über 950 Millionen Mark für die Unterstützung des Friedensprozesses im Nahen Osten vorgeschlagen. Die Bundesregierung will die Palästinenser beim Aufbau ihrer Selbstverwaltung unterstützen.

Dagegen waren die Reaktionen aus dem arabischen Lager – außer im Fall Ägypten und der Arabischen Liga – reserviert bis ablehnend.

Dear Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin,

Hi! Shalom!!!
Congratulations!!!! This is definitely a great moment in history. You did the right thing. I know you did. You can't go on fighting. You can't keep shedding blood.
It has to stop. It has to come to an end.
It will be a difficult process, a long journey,
but it will all work out well.

The world needs peace. Israel needs peace.
I pray it all works out.
There's an old rock n roll song by the Strawberry Alarm clock called "I Climbed the Mountain". Some of the words are :
I climbed the mountain,
I saw the other side,
And I can rest now
for I am satisfied
I saw Johnny as he came marching home,
I saw a lion lying with a lamb

There's more words to it but the refrain is "And there was peace in the valley there was hope in the children and there was love in the heart of man."

Maybe you can think of these words as you continue the peace process.

Best wishes always,

Dear Prime Minister Rabin,

I appreciate and admire the bold step you have taken to bring peace to the Middle East. All eyes are on Israel and there is great hope for success.

Peace between Palestinians and Israelis serve as a model and symbol of hope for many other places in the world where similar struggles between neighbors is destroying the fabric of life. Last weekend, a group of Armenians and Azerbaijanis who are involved in their own peace process, planted an olive tree in honor of the great progress the Arabs and Jews have made. We realize it is just a beginning, but it is a giant step forward.

It was a difficult decision on your part, but people all over the world cried with gratitude. I join the multitudes who send you blessings and moral support as you continue to define and fulfill the agreements set into motion.

PEACE,

YITZAK RABIN, PRIME MINISTER
COUT. OF ISRAEL
JERUSALEM, ISRAEL

DEAR SIR:

THIS IS MY SECOND LETTER TO YOU GIVING MY SUPPORT FOR ALL THAT YOU HAVE DONE TO BRING ABOUT PEACE IN THE MIDDLE EAST. THIS TIME I WANT TO THANK YOU FOR SHAKING THE HAND OF ARAFAT AT THE SIGNING OF THE AGREEMENT IN THE WHITE HOUSE ROSE GARDEN. I KNOW THAT YOU ARE GETTING A LOT OF FLAK BACK IN ISRAEL FOR WHAT YOU DID, BUT WE ALL BELIEVE THAT YOU DID THE RIGHT THING. WE HAD HEARD THAT YOU WOULD REFUSE TO SHAKE HIS HAND, AND WE WERE ALL HOLDING OUR BREATHS WHEN ARAFAT WALKED OVER TO YOU AND OFFERED YOU HIS HAND. YOU SEEMED TO HESITATE AT FIRST AND THEN YOU TOOK HIS HAND. WE ALL GAVE A SIGN OF RELIEF WHEN THIS HAPPENED. THERE WAS APPLAUSE OF APPROVAL WHEN IT TOOK PLACE. YOUR WORDS SAYING YOU DESIRED PEACE WERE SO TOUCHING BUT WOULD HAVE MEANT ABSOLUTELY NOTHING IF YOU HAD NOT SHAKEN HIS HAND. ALL WOULD SAY THAT YOU ARE A HYPOCRITE AND IT WOULD HAVE GIVEN CREDENCE TO OUR ENEMIES TO SAY THAT "SEAS NAME AN ARROGANT AND STIFF NECKED PEOPLE" WHICH WE WAS NOT. MOST LIBERALS, PROGRESSIVES, AND PEOPLE ON THE LEFT HAVE ALWAYS BEEN JEWS. YOU SET A GOOD EXAMPLE BY SAYING "LET US FORGET OUR PAST AND THE DIFFERENCES THAT WE HAVE, AND BUILD UP THE MIDDLE EAST." YOU SHOWED BY YOUR ACTIONS THAT YOU BELIEVE WHAT YOU SAID.

WE LOVE YOU AND SUPPORT YOU, NO MATTER WHAT YOUR ENEMIES SAY AND DO AGAINST YOU. GOD BLESS YOU, YITZAK RABIN

Sub:- Congratulations on the historic event of Peace Settlement.

Dear Sir,

I myself and on behalf of all moderate Muslims world wide convey our the most sincere congratulations to your good-self and your Israeli nation.

By this Peace Agreement between Israel and Palestine not only Israel has been recognised by Palestinians but also it will serve to sease the opportunists from using their religions as instrument for their vested interests.

After the peace has been achieved by political means, now , there should be allowed a group of moderate Muslims and jews scholars who could concrete the treaty by stressing and preaching on the common message of the three monotheistic religions.

Any way your good-self has become as the echo sound of the grandeur of the ancestors of Israelites.

May GOD Almighty make it everlasting, Amin.

I am enclosing herewith a poem which I composed on the occasion for your attention.

Thank you for taking this courageous step toward peace!

Resisting the pressures from those who would rather continue to pursue the course of hate, and deciding to take an untried course must have required of you the taking of great personal risks.

Dear Sir:

Many years I have wanted to write you, but what can one mortal man say to one in the midst of fury, for one's mind is possessed with offense and defense, which allows little time for peaceful thoughts.

War is like a raging inferno--once you stanch the rage, the healing begins.

I have some words of thought, if I may be so bold to share with you, and, hopefully, you may wish to share them with the people you love and lead.

I pray for your healing.

THE VOYAGE OF THE RETURN

I set sail across the desert to leave the pain of misery.

Searching for the ocean, I have heard so much of its splendid beauty and tranquility.

My sails were full of the hot desert air as I pass motionless dunes.

I remember what was said to me when searching for contentment afar. For man is never content as he seeks for where it is but cannot seem to find it.

I looked out across my bow and noticed an oasis drawing near. I saw a weary traveler with camel at hand, getting drink from the cool. Our eyes had met and it mysteriously drew me there. I let down my sails and coasted to his near. He asked me, "Son, where does your journey take thee?" I replied, "Far away from the pain and misery and to the great ocean of splendid beauty and tranquility." He turned and drank another drink from the cool, looked back at me and asked, "My Son, what is the heaviest load a man can carry?" I pondered at what an odd question he was placing upon me, I could not think of a satisfying answer. He knew I was alone, puzzled and spoke, "A grudge, my Son--for he cannot see clearly ahead because of his pains and becomes a prisoner of the past.

THE EXCHANGING OF THE SHOES
For only then can we see and touch each other's souls.

Let me walk in my enemy's shadow and run with him
when he was once a child;
drink and eat of his food,
spend time with his family and friends;
try to understand his encumbered load,
let me have a conference with his eyes.
Before I analyze the character of his soul.

One cannot pardon another until he can truly forget.

The difference between a successful country and a failed one is the successful one finds something positive about failure.

Only the omission of irrational wisdom leads to war.

Nous, juifs du monde entier nous étions il y a deux jours de cela en train d'écouter le magnifique discours que vous, homme de paix et d'intelligence, avez fait le 10 octobre 1983 à la Chambre des députés à Paris, pour la paix et l'amitié entre Israël et la France. Nous étions heureux de vous entendre prononcer au nom du peuple juif.

Le peuple qui a si longtemps souffert de la guerre, peu croire à de nouvelles années de joie.

Ma famille et moi même, nous nous sentons concernés par l'avenir de notre pays (je suis juif). Nous avons vécu deux fois dans ce splendide pays où vous vivez, et j'ai côtoyé des gens formidables, heureux de vivre malgré la queue et l'angoisse pour la vie de leurs enfants. Ces deux voyages auront été pour moi unique de sensation et j'espére très prochainement pouvoir finir mes études d'Arts en "entre Israël").

Vous avez su trouver les mots, les phrases et enfin le ton pour nous faire comprendre ce que vous ressentez en nous à la fois périlleux et joyeux.

Nous vous en remercions et nous espérons qu'un jour Israël connaîtra la paix totale.

Je vous prie d'agréer monsieur le premier ministre

Dear Itshak, 1993 October 2nd, fine 17°C ~~only~~ good morning. How are you? It is very early here, 7 a.m. ~~because~~ <sup>because</sup> it is Saturday, the weekend. The post office ~~near~~ <sup>near</sup> to this house always closes on Saturday and Sunday. But I can send you only letters from there. It gets cooler and cooler day by day here in this prefecture. Recently I have read about your political movements — you will go to China from October 10th for four-day official visits. And Mr. Christopher in USA will come to Israel and the other nations in the Arabs in October to talk about the political movements between Israel and PLO in Washington D.C. in this September ... Please send the news for me. I will surely watch them in TV news and in the newspaper. Because I am much interested in "the Middle East Issues." So you are very busy.

I know that you are a prime minister in Israel. And you were working for your country ~~as~~ <sup>in 1970's</sup> the same job after the South Middle East War. I sometimes listen to the Rock's music tapes alone in my room,

Dear Mr. Rabin,

You may well consider it an intrusion a mere housewife and mother writing to the Prime Minister of Israel, but I hope you will have the grace to read my letter.

In 1988, my husband and I made our first visit to your beautiful country. We are Christians, and whilst visiting the Garden Tomb in Jerusalem, I noticed a verse, hand painted on a piece of stone, it said, 'Oh! pray for the Peace of Jerusalem' a verse I had read many times before in my Bible studies.

At that time it reduced me to tears. We had almost come to the end of our pilgrimage and had received such warmth from both Israelis and Palestinians, and seen the struggles you wonderful people were suffering, those words pierced my heart.

we made a 2nd visit the following year, taking with us two of our 4 children. They both suffer from Cystic Fibrosis, a disease of the lungs and digestive system that claims many young lives.

Whilst in Jerusalem we organised a service of healing which was attended by both Israelis and Palestinians, when we all prayed together for the health of our children, and the peace of Jerusalem. My children are still alive and comparatively well, now 18 yrs and 13 yrs of age. I may ~~not~~ joy the when we hear that a Peace Treaty has been signed and our prayers have been answered. We have prayed continuously for the peace of Jerusalem, and will continue to pray that the peace will hold in your beautiful land.

One day we hope to revisit our beloved Israel (for that is how we view it) if at some time, miraculously, funds allow, we save every year, but always something takes the money, but when we do, and we will some day, how I would love to shake your hand, a very brave man who must love his country so much, for us with our children as they grow, the deepest kind of love is the kind that can let go.

Thank you so much for reading my letter,
and maybe ~~is~~ accepting that even housewives and mothers can express an opinion.

I remain yours faithfully.
