Thank you for your fax of December 6, 1994. I appreciate your warm words of congratulations on my having recently been awarded the Nobel Peace Prize. I regret circumstances prevented you from attending the Nobel Peace Prize Award Ceremonies. However, you were with us in spirit.

I wish both your wife and mother a speedy recovery and hope to have the opportunity to see you again soon.

Dear Yitzhak:

I want to tell you how very sorry I am to have to miss being present as you receive the Nobel Peace Prize. Only serious illness in my family could possibly keep me away. My mother, at 93 years, has just returned to the hospital with complications arising from a massive heart attack, and my wife is virtually incapacitated with a triple fracture of her arm that required surgery to repair. I just don't feel I should be out of the country, even briefly, just now.

But I do want you to know how proud I am of our friendship and how very honored I was by your invitation. I only regret that I am unable to deliver my warm congratulations to you in person.

Henry A. Kissinger

Dear Henry,

Back in Israel, I wanted to seize the opportunity in order to express the pleasure I had meeting you again and discussing with you our problems and challenges.

I quite agree with you that it would also have been a great disappointment to me to have to miss a conversation with you and luckily enough, we succeeded in arranging this meeting which, as always, has been characterized by an atmosphere of candidness and friendship.

I am sure that in the course of this crucial year of 1993, I will have other opportunities to meet you and hopefully to share with you my great expectations as to the ways to reach genuine peace with our neighbors, for the time has come to heal the wounds and scars and make peace.

I wish you the best of health and luck.

Dear ~~Mr. Prime Minister~~:

I have just returned from a trip abroad to find your letter of February 8 inviting me to speak at the inauguration of the International Center at Bet Gabriel. Unfortunately, I am giving an address in the midwest on the day of the inauguration and, regretfully, will have to decline. I wish the Center every success and, should they want to give me a raincheck, I would do my best to be there on another occasion.

On another matter, I am so sorry that a trip to California will keep me from Ambassador Avital's dinner in your honor but very much appreciate your willingness to receive me at such an early hour on March 18. It would have been a great disappointment to me were I to have missed seeing you entirely while you are here.

With warmest regards,

Dear Henry,

The newly-established International Center at Bet Gabriel is to be inaugurated on May 4, 1993, at its beautiful site on the southern shore of Lake Kinneret (Sea of Galilee).

The International Center was formed with the purpose of promoting conferences, seminars, and meetings dealing with outstanding international and national subjects. It is designed to be a major institution of its kind, internationally, regionally and locally. The Center, initiated and built by the Gabriel Sherover Foundation, is governed by a non-partisan board, of which I am a member. The other members include Professor Amnon Rubinstein, the current Minister of Energy, Mr. Moshe Arens and Mr. Dan Meridor. The Honorary President is Israel's Chief Justice, Meir Shamgar.

The inauguration of the International Center will be highlighted by an inaugural conference joint-ventured with the Aspen Institute. It will be centered on the theme of Diversity and Democracy (the outline is enclosed).

I would like to invite you, on behalf of the International Center, to participate in the Center's inauguration as a keynote speaker. Your acceptance will be highly appreciated.

Looking forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely
